The CEU History Department is pleased to announce its call for applications for graduate programs in History starting in Vienna in the Fall of 2023. We offer one- and two-year MA programs as well as a doctoral program, supported by financial aid: https://history.ceu.edu/content/programs.

The international faculty and student body at the History Department provide a unique possibility of studying history across geographical regions, historical periods, and disciplines. CEU is committed to providing education available for all. Most of our students receive financial aid helping them to dedicate their full energies to their studies.

The deadline for applications with financial aid is February 1, 2023 (23:59, CET).

More information about the application process can be found on our departmental website: https://history.ceu.edu/howtoapply. The department's recruitment coordinator, Daniela Munteanu, will be happy to answer further questions about the programs and the application process on history@ceu.edu.
